

I like the Indiana privacy Law. I have a telephone for communication use. Not for sales or charities hounding me at home. If I want to buy something I will look for it at the market or in an advertisement. I do not need these type people bothering me. They should get real jobs. Or look for other ways to to sell and market their items.